Standard Communication

Subject Line: CORE – A National Operator Resource is Here to Serve

CORE: Children of Restaurant Employees (@COREgives) is a national non-profit dedicated to providing financial relief to food and beverage operations employees with children when either the parent or their child faces a health crisis, injury, death, or the loss of home or place of work due to a natural disaster.

(Insert organization name) is honored to partner with a national non profit that provides a valuable resource to food and beverage service operations employees with children. Founded by members of the beverage industry who wanted to give back to operations employees with children who serve us every day. Any type of foodservice or beverage service operations employee with children in the U.S. may be eligible for support to relieve financial burdens. The grants help cover medical bills, medical supplies, therapies, utilities, rent / mortgage, and other essential needs that a family might find necessary to navigate their specific circumstances. Each grant is unique and tailored to meet the applicants needs and documentation is required.

Please share this valuable resource with your operations employees. CORE provides communications resources and a Back of the House poster that you can display in your food or beverage service operation. If you know of a food and beverage service employee with children, and their family is facing a qualifying circumstance, tell them about CORE or you can refer the family: www.COREgives.org.
